ADMINISTRATION

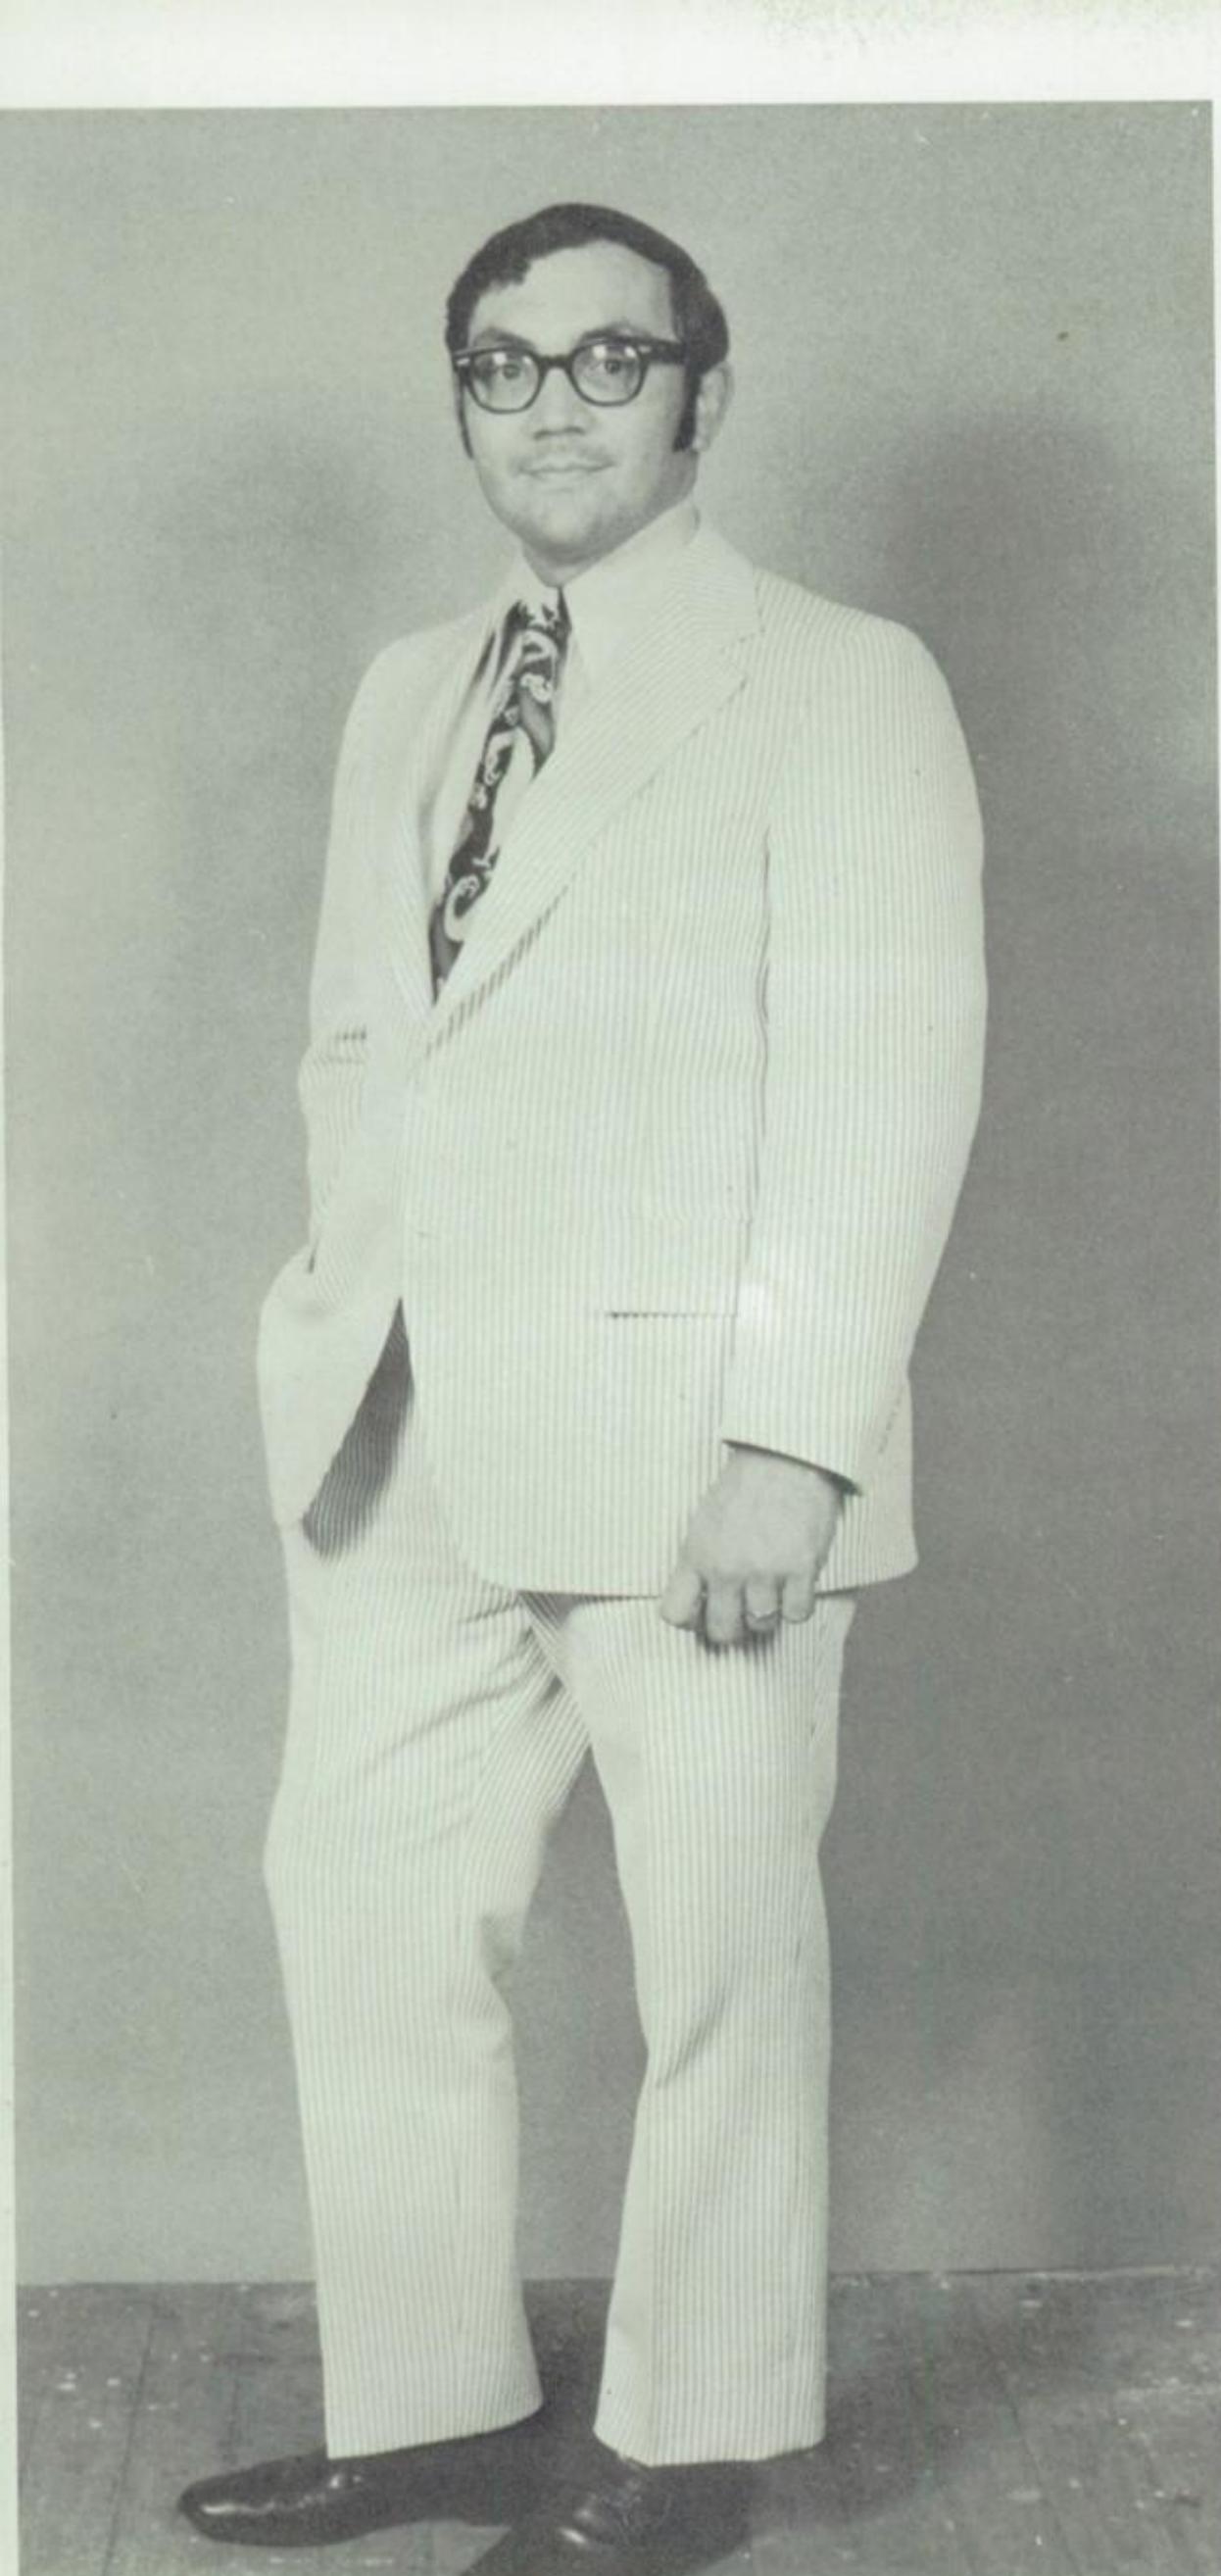

Administration Accepts Responsibility

RIGHT:
Mrs. Beth Freeman
Superintendent

Cocke County School Board

Seated (L. to R.) Gerald O'Dell; Mrs. Beth Freeman, Superintendent; Mack Holdway, Chairman; Standing (L. to R.) Cebe Ford; John Lawson; Raymond Large; Zimri Ball; and Bobby Parks.

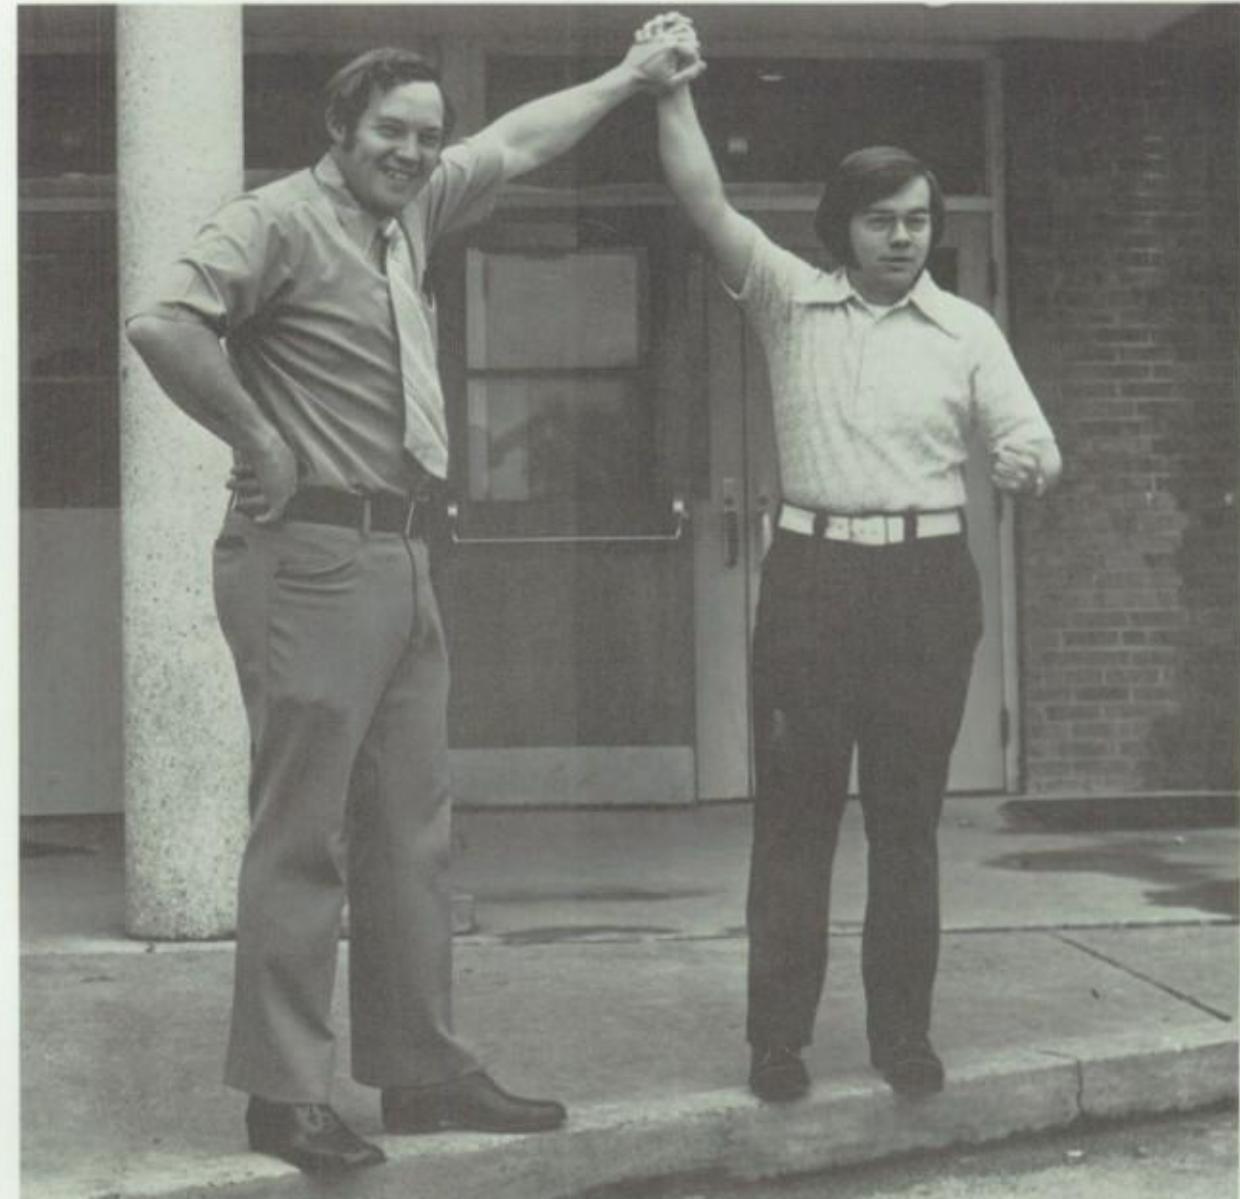

Mr. Henry L. Gregory
Principal

"One picture is worth ten thousand words," says an old Chinese Proverb. In the years to come Chanticleer will become one of your most treasured articles. Each member of your class will remember friendships and renew memories of school days now past. May your experiences at Cocke County High School be stepping-stones to a brighter future. I hope these remarks refresh your memory and bring you much happiness.

Assistant Principals

The administration, aware that the main purpose of any school is to provide a well balanced educational program, proceeded to implement a broad, flexible, curriculum and encouraged students to participate in current programs.

Mr. Henry L. Gregory, principal, had two able assistants this year — Mr. Glen Anders and Mr. William Hicks.

The Student Council at CCHS was composed of one representative from each homeroom, a president, vice-president and many members attended Council Workshop. In December, the Council sponsored a highly successful Student-Teacher Banquet where faculty members and Council representatives had the opportunity to discuss various school needs and problems. In the spring, the Council sent representatives to the Tenn. Association of Student Council where members gained valuable information from other Council representatives across the state of Tennessee. One of the main projects of Student Council this year was to purchase new curtains for the auditorium. The purpose of the Council is to serve as a channel of communication between the student body and the administration.

Homecoming

Homecoming Week '72 was filled with tradition, anticipation, and new experiences. This year the individual classes combined their efforts to come up with four outstanding floats on the theme, "A Dream Come True."

On Friday, the judging of the floats, the endurance of "Silent Day", and a rousing Pep Rally preceded the football game that night.

SPORTS

1972

Throughout the season the 1972-73 Fighting Cocks always held on to their main objective . . . THE DESIRE TO WIN. But more important, each individual understood more fully the meaning of self-discipline, pride, and team work.

The 1973 Chanticleer Staff members fully realize the responsibility involved in a publication such as we have just completed. It involves months of planning, working to meet publishers' deadline, co-operation of staff members, students, faculty, and administrators.

We express our thanks to the following for your patience and cooperation: Mr. Henry L. Gregory, principal; members of the faculty, students, Painter's Photography, Newport Plain Talk, The Cocke County Banner, our Advertising patrons, and Mary B. Smith, our sponsor. Without your help this yearbook could have not become a reality.

Sincerely yours,

1973 Chanticleer Staff

What Is A Senior??

A SENIOR IS . . .

A frustrated term-paper writer

A person who doesn't have to be a cub scout anymore because it's too late now

A senior girl is a mail watcher — in more ways than one

A scared little freshman — three years older

A college applicant who bites his nails until April 15, and then is . . .

Someone who must choose between UT and ETSU and ends up at WSCC

A person who finally has his driver's license and doesn't have to take the school bus — only to discover he's not getting the car

A person who leaves high school and never has to come back

Walking around with her hand in a glass case for 2 months after receiving his class ring

A frozen, happy, drunk, exhausted victim of the SENIOR TRIP

A student who's a senior for 1 year, only to become a freshman again

Having his own locker

A person who finally gets senior privileges when the whole school already has them

Someone with the world at his feet who doesn't know how to walk

Finally immune to the delicacies of the school lunch room program

Having a football team that used "Tackle" but it didn't work

Someone who's been wishing for years for a senior lounge

A person who still hasn't learned to keep his mouth shut during study hall

Someone who has finally learned the principal's name and now is trying to forget it

A person who finally breaks down to buy a yearbook

Someone who can't spell "SENIOR"

Enjoying the look on a freshman's face when you tell him that there is a shower in the cafeteria corner

Not having to run 3 miles from his locker to his homeroom

A class that needs $5000 in their treasury and only has $4999.99

A person who explores the mysteries of American History, Physics, Chemistry, Macbeth, Advanced Math . . .

Having memories that can't be put into words

A SENIOR IS A THING OF THE PAST!!!!
